Inventory

- If there's no inventory you might want to produce your own and get it agreed with your landlord
- Record the condition of your property when you move in, it may help you get your deposit back.
   Take lots of photos of all the furniture and fittings in each room and any obvious pre-existing damage.

- Make sure you have a valid Gas Safety Certificate
- Test all smoke detectors
- Don't wait for the first cold snap to find out the central heating doesn't work

- TV Licence Make sure you have one, it might have been included last year in halls.
- Meter Readings If your bills aren't included make sure you take meter readings for your utilities and notify the utility company that there are new tenants.

Rubbish

- Refuse collections are fortnightly but on a two week cycle with black bins (general household waste) and green bins (glass, cans & plastic, paper & cardboard) being collected on alternate weeks.
- You are expected to place the bins out on the street by 7am on your collection day and bring them back in as soon as possible after they've been emptied. To find out your bin days go to www.worcester.gov.uk/household-waste

During Your Tenancy

- Contract Keep this handy as you might want to refer to it at a later date.
- Lead tenants This might be the only person your landlord communicates with so make sure they pass on those important messages.

• Repairs and disrepair should be notified to your landlord as soon as possible and preferably in writing so you have an evidence trail.

Introduce yourself to the neighbours

• They can be an invaluable source of local information and making friends with them makes you feel part of the community. Remember they may have a very different lifestyle from you. Be considerate around late night noise. If you're having friends round or a party, inform your neighbours in advance and don't let things get out of hand. If you receive a complaint, apologise and keep the noise down.
